President's Message

By David Rumsey

Howdy everyone.

I had a great time in Bishop at Mule Days, cooking for the college kids and watching our kids compete. MJC started off outstanding taking first place in the first two competitions. It was great to see. Now all we had to do is just deliver a nice clean load and come in around 5th place to secure the World Champion title. Well, sometimes that's easier said than done. When they lined up the animals on the line, the folks dropping off the loads to be packed just kind of threw the stuff out there. That's when the adjustments should have been made, but they were not. Things went way wrong from that point on. My heart dropped as the competition continued. By the time they crossed the finish line it was now like my heart was completely ripped out of my chest. I will let Carl talk more about the team later in this newsletter. I will say that our kids did the best they could and put everything they had into the competition. I am very proud of what they accomplished.

I had two friends of mine, Matt and Jaycee, come over and give me a hand cooking this year, along with Michael King. What help they were! We started off with custom-made cowboy burgers and hotdogs. I think the burgers were the best I've ever had, a bit spicy for some. The second night we had barrel chicken and a special bean recipe that I make and green beans with bacon and onion. That, too, was pretty darn good. Now we're on to night three, roasted whole pig. We cooked a whole pig in my pig roasting box. We made pinto beans with jalapenos, homemade mango salsa, homemade pico de gallo and street tacos. One of the highlights of the pig roast was when the Cal Poly girls came up and requested to kiss the hog. Yes that's right, kiss the hog! I was a bit reluctant at first; then when I turned back around, about eight of them had their knives out. At that time, I agreed to let them line up and kiss the hog! I had a great time at our late Spring Campout up at Clark Fork Horse Camp. I ate good food, caught nice fish and just had a relaxing time hanging out with friends. That's it for now.

Cheesy Mushroom Chicken in Dutch Oven

Submitted by Carl Perry

- 4 boneless chicken breasts
- 1 egg, lightly beaten
- $\frac{3}{4}$ t. salt
- 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ c. crushed butter flavored crackers
- $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. fresh mushrooms, sliced
- 4 T. butter, divided
- 4 slices ham
- 4 slices smoked provolone cheese

Flatten the chicken to about $\frac{1}{4}$ in. thickness.

Place the egg in a shallow bowl.

Combine the cracker crumbs and salt in another bowl. Dip the chicken in the egg, then in the cracker crumbs and set aside.

In a 12" Dutch oven over a full spread of coals, sauté the mushrooms in 2 T. butter until tender. Remove and set aside. Add the remaining butter to the DO. Add the chicken. Cook for 5-6 minutes on each side or until browned. Cover and move enough coals to the lid to bring the oven to 350 degrees (16 coals on top/10 coals on bottom). Bake for about 10 minutes or until juices run clear. Remove the lid and place a slice of ham, mushrooms, and a slice of cheese on each breast. Cover and cook until the cheese is melted. Serves 4.

Mid Valley Needs Your Help!

By Jerrie Thomas (with Kathy Zumbrunn's help!)

I made my speech at the Mid Valley Board of Directors meeting last Tuesday, and now I am asking the rest of you to help me out. As you probably know by now, Mid Valley Unit has been given a beautiful bronze statue to raffle off. The money generated by this raffle goes directly to the youth activities and our trails.

You may not realize this, but Backcountry Horsemen of California is in dire straits! Our dedicated members who have kept this organization going are getting older, and one day they will no longer be able to pack into the back country and work on our trails.

We need to do something to get new, and younger members into this organization!

That is where this raffle comes in. If we sell all two hundred tickets, we will have $10,000 to use for youth activities and improve our trails. After the meeting, several people stepped up and bought tickets, some even bought more than one! Now I am reaching out to the rest of our membership to help. If each of you bought one ticket, we could sell all the tickets. We have only sold approximately 90 of the 200 tickets so far. I'm sure you can afford a $50 donation to our Mid Valley Unit, and you could possibly go home with a beautiful bronze statue! You don't need one...well, how about donating it back to Mid Valley, or giving it to someone who would treasure it?

So please step up and help out your unit! The drawing will be held at our Kennedy Meadows Campout in August. Please call or text Jerrie Thomas at: (209) 985-4502 to get your tickets now!

Thank you!

Dutch Oven Report

By Vicki Whisler

I drove my motorhome, towing the Mid Valley Unit trailer, to Clark Fork Horse Camp for the Backcountry Horsemen Mid Valley Unit Spring Campout. First and foremost, I have to thank Carl Perry and Jim Westmoreland for getting my rig backed in and parked, and on an almost level spot, too! Secondly, I have to thank Cody Andrews for his help along with (again) Carl and Jim for unloading and moving the BBQ, three-burner stove and various other things, to where they were needed. They set up not only the big pop-up and tables for our potluck, but they also set up the small one next to the motorhome for my prep and cooking area. I thank them again for packing all those things back into the trailer so I could leave Sunday morning.

Thanks to everyone for coming to Clark Fork Horse Camp for a weekend of fun, good food, great entertainment, by Lance Kell, of course, and some hard work by a few who moved or sawed logs to open trails! I'm glad there was time for those of you who wanted to get in some pleasure riding!

THANKS TO EVERYONE for making this a great weekend! Just sorry I had to have others do things I normally do! To new members - welcome! I hope you had a good time. To the new Dutch oven cooks - welcome! It is always nice to have some new things show up on the table.

Ok cooks, old and new, don't forget we are cooking desserts for The Tuolumne County Farm Bureau on Friday, July 26, at the Hurst Ranch in Jamestown.

Take care, keep hydrated and try to stay cool!!

Bishop Mule Days 2024

By Carl Perry

The Intercollegiate Pack Team at Bishop Mule Days finally came together one week before Memorial weekend. We practiced two days in a row to be sure we were working as a team.

The team was having a beautiful run as they were leading the nine competitive teams by 12 points going into the finals. They walked into the arena with confidence in their minds. It all started to go bad with the distribution of the load. The unload men put our load on the wrong side of the mules. The team didn't notice at first. They cannot touch the load so they thought they could move the mules. They tried to push the mules over and lost the positions of the mules. The starting time was getting near, and nerves were kicking in.

By that time the buzzer went off. They were scrambling to get the loads on, and when Ashley threw the lash rope over it wrapped around the other team's horse's neck. She pulled the rope, but no slack came. Now the competitor's horse is moving closer to our animals giving us less room to work. Several tugs and finally Corrie realized that the rope was tied in a knot on the other team's horse. She ran over to untwist the rope but the horse rider of that team saw it and untwisted the rope and threw it towards Corrie. That's what I call true sportsmanship. When things start going wrong, and you are traveling at a high rate of speed, it usually doesn't get better. When they threw the mantle over, the wind caught it and didn't cover the ice chest. Now there are several teams heading to the finish line, and with the adrenaline in full force, our ropes got loose. Carmen exploded out of the starting point and the loads were bouncing pretty good. When she reached the finish line the box hitch had completely fallen off of the ice chest. The ice chest didn't even move. Doug and I were watching from the other end of the arena, and it all looked good. BUT when the judge walked over to judge the load, he picked up the ice chest in amazement. Needless to say, our hearts fell to the bottom of our feet. They finished in 3rd place and no buckle this year. Really not bad from a field of nine.

Congratulations to the team of 2024.

Clark Fork June 2024 Work Party

By Carl Perry

The Clark Fork work party on June 1, 2024, successfully cleared the trail at the end of the horse camp road, all the way to the water crossing at the meadow. The water was rushing fast, so we did not cross it. We had two teams leapfrogging up the trail. One team consisted of Sandy Rahilly, Doug and Cathy Dollarhide, Lee Owing and Vernon Storment. The other team was Cody Andrews, Gary Cain and Carl Perry. There weren't a lot of trees down, maybe 20-30, but the spots that blocked the trail were messy. It is amazing how fast trees can fall. For instance, when we went back up there the following weekend for the Spring Campout, there was a new fallen rotten tree directly in the trail. It remains there today. We call that forest security. That afternoon we went up the Arnot trail and cleared some of it also. The next morning, we followed the river trail downstream. It wasn't too long before we had to turn back as 1 p.m. was approaching and it was time to go home. It seems that we are losing ground on that trail as we don't get as far as the year before. I would call the weekend very rewarding because the "ride around" places are now limited.

As we were clearing trails, we had another crew working at the horse camp sites. They were Ron Stearns, Van Pender and Evan Rahilly. Those three guys are painting experts. They used 10 gallons of Oxford Brown paint and dispersed it on mostly all the tables. When we returned, the sheen on the tables was very apparent. Thank you to all those who helped.

Spring Campout at Clark Fork Horse Camp

By Carl Perry

Finally, the spring campout is in the history books. This was the hardest plan ever. With everyone's busy schedule we couldn't find a weekend that fit all the hosts. We did beat the official summer date, which is not here yet.

Lance Kell played for us on Friday night, and he just sang the night away. It was 10:15 p.m. before I knew it. We wrapped up the night with a giant fire glowing in the dark. Thanks to Van Pender for building the fire.

Breakfast on Saturday morning was prepared and cooked by Jim Westmoreland, Garrett Dollarhide and Dave Rumsey, our chief advisor. There were many other cook bosses in the kitchen such as: Vicki Whisler, Cody Andrews, Carl and Julie Perry. Everyone filled their bellies and were ready to ride shortly after.

There were more than 40 people attending Saturday night for the Dutch oven potluck. Dave Rumsey smoked four tri-tips, which were delicious. There were three scalloped potato dishes. I sampled every one! Dennis Serpa forgot his chicken and ended up making a meatball casserole. There were so many selections that they almost didn't fit on three 8-foot tables. We even put the desserts under the tables to make room for the main courses. Our desserts were a peach/plum dump cake made by Ashley Dollarhide, a peach cobbler made by Chris Westmoreland, a berry cobbler by Cathy Dollarhide and bread pudding by Julie and Carl Perry. We set up two 10x20 pop ups, end to end, and made a super serving area of 10x40.

At the end of our dinner Dave Rumsey started a short general meeting. Doug Dollarhide gave a brief educational presentation and I followed with a six item auction to help defray some of our costs.

A continental breakfast was served on Sunday morning, followed by Doug Dollarhide hosting a cowboy church and it was well attended. A few people saddled up their horses and rode the trails again before they left.

This campout took a great deal of cooperation from our members, from set up to tear down. A great big "Thank you" to everyone who helped!

Kennedy Meadows Campout and General Meeting

By Ashley Dollarhide

The snow is melting and the trails are opening back up, which means the annual Kennedy Meadows campout on Thursday, August 8, through Sunday, August 11 is coming up! My name is Ashley Dollarhide, and I have taken on the fun role of putting together the weekend's events. This year we plan on changing things up a little by bringing in some new activities, including a demonstration by Individual World Champion Packer, Garrett Dollarhide, and a saddle fitting and equine body work workshop by Ashley Mello with Mello Out Equine Therapy. We are also putting together a silent auction tack swap with any tack you no longer use. We ask you to either donate an item or donate ten percent of your earnings to the Mid Valley Unit to help us continue to put these events together. To further bring funds to the group, we will be hosting a cornhole tournament, half the pot goes to Mid Valley, the other half goes to the winner! Saturday night will be the Dutch oven potluck dinner. Friendly reminder that Kennedy Meadows has a strict no bicycle rule and we ask for dogs to be kept to your campsites or on leash. Campsites are on a first come, first served basis. Please be considerate of others' space and use friendly camping etiquette. Please be prepared for possible rain. If anyone has extra tables or canopies for the events in case of rain, we would greatly appreciate any extras!

We will be closing the reservations at 90 people. Any volunteers for helping with membership and rsvp status would be greatly appreciated. Thank you, and I look forward to another fun-filled campout!

RSVP to Ashley Dollarhide at (209) 822-0360 to reserve your place.
